

Greetings From Guidance!

"His domain, home to many such innovations, he named "Weslandia." A quote from a book I will be reading in guidance classes to discuss another pillar of character "Respect." We will spend the next few weeks learning about being respectful. According to the "6 Pillars of Character," we treat others the way we want to be treated (the Golden Rule), we are tolerant of others and their differences, we use good language, consider others' feelings, and we deal peacefully with anger and conflict, (Josephson Institute, "Character Counts!"). When you are visiting Summit Street School, please check out the 6 pillars in the upstairs hallway. "Respect" is the yellow one for the "Golden Rule."
